Chip Mallin represents clients in complex commercial disputes and securities arbitrations, guiding them through every stage of litigation with a focus on strategic resolution and trial readiness.

Chip is a member in the Litigation Department of Lewis Rice. Chip represents clients in a wide range of commercial and civil litigation matters and advises them through all phases of the litigation process. He has experience conducting pre-suit evaluations, responding to discovery, taking depositions, arguing substantive motions, and preparing for trial. Chip's understanding of the discovery process allows him to effectively position cases for resolution or trial.

Chip also routinely represents clients in securities arbitrations before the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA), including matters involving allegations of unsuitable securities recommendations, churning, unauthorized trading, selling away, failure to supervise, and inadequate due diligence.

Prior to joining Lewis Rice, Chip worked as a trial staff attorney for American Family Insurance. He has been selected by his peers for inclusion in Best Lawyers® Ones to Watch from 2021 to 2025.

Outside of work, Chip enjoys spending time with his wife, Margaret, and their three children.
