LEWIS RICE

Phoebe D. Leach

Associate

pleach@lewisrice.com

St. Louis, MO / (314) 444-7832

Phoebe is an associate in the Trust & Estates department of Lewis Rice, where she advises clients on estate and gift tax matters.

During law school, Phoebe served as a Law Clerk for the United States Senate and gained valuable private practice experience as a Summer Associate with both Lewis Rice and Thompson Coburn LLP. Prior to joining the Firm, Phoebe served as a Judicial Law Clerk for the United States Tax Court.

Education

- Georgetown University School of Law (J.D., 2025)
  - Chief Executive Editor, The Georgetown Journal of Law & Public Policy (2024-2025)
  - Phoebe Leach, Taxed from Home: How Post-Pandemic Remote Work Magnifies the Constitutional Issues with Taxing Telecommuters, 23 Geo. J.L. & Pub. Pol'y 227 (2025)
- The King's College (B.A., magna cum laude)
  - Humanities, minor in Business Management
  - Attorney, American Mock Trial Association (2018-2019)
  - Tutorials in the Classics, Athenian Democracy, Cicero (Oxford University, 2021)

Legal Background

- Judicial Law Clerk, Hon. Mark V. Holmes, United States Tax Court (2025-2026)
- Law Clerk, Senator Eric Schmitt (R-MO), United States Senate (2025)
- Summer Associate, Lewis Rice LLC (2024)
- Summer Associate, Thompson Coburn LLP (2023)

Admissions

- Missouri Bar

Services

- Trust & Estates
- Trust & Estate Litigation

Publications

2026

Taxed from Home: How Post-Pandemic Remote Work Magnifies the Constitutional Issues with Taxing Telecommuters

The Georgetown Journal of Law & Public Policy