Simeon Brown is a corporate attorney with deep experience in banking and finance, offering clients practical, business-minded legal counsel shaped by his background in technical sales and complex transactions.

Simeon Brown is a corporate finance attorney with deep experience in banking and lending, mergers and acquisitions, and general corporate issues, offering clients practical, business-minded legal counsel.

Simeon is an associate in the Corporate Department at Lewis Rice, with a primary focus on corporate finance and lending. Prior to joining the firm, Simeon practiced at a large Intermountain West law firm, representing clients in a range of transactions including commercial finance, acquisition finance, mergers and acquisitions, recapitalizations and reorganizations, equity raises, and other general corporate matters.

His corporate finance and lending experience includes representing bank and non-bank lenders, investors, sponsors, and borrowers across the full scope of corporate finance. Simeon advises his clients on transactions in commercial finance, acquisition finance, equipment and asset-based loans, and financing for construction and real property development projects. His practice includes an emphasis in marine and admiralty transactions, including the documentation of U.S.-registered vessels, ship mortgages, and charter party agreements for clients in the marine industries. Simeon also has substantial experience representing clients in negotiating workouts, bankruptcies, and matters involving financial distress and foreclosure. In addition to transactional work, he serves as general outside corporate counsel for various institutions, advising on corporate governance and contract issues.

Before becoming an attorney, Simeon had a successful career in technical sales, working with clients across industries such as industrial and electrical distribution, food processing, energy, transportation, heavy manufacturing, mining and oil and gas, pharmaceutical manufacturing, hospitals, and government. This experience gives him a unique perspective, allowing him to address not only the legal implications of his clients' challenges but also their broader business impact.

A proud St. Louisan, Simeon is passionate about the region's success. Outside of work, he is a long-suffering sports fan, enjoying his Baylor Bears and Mizzou Tigers, and he is
